

ALAN DAVIES

. . . to Hillingdon

DAVIES

LEAVES

ALAN Davies, the former Queens Park Rangers player who signed for Wycombe Wanderers at the start of the season, has been transferred to Southern League Hillingdon Borough. The move went through last week and a small fee was involved.

Davies was a regular for the Blues in midfield early in the season, playing in nine league matches. Later on, however, he was unable to claim a regular place and made only the occasional appearance as substitute.

Alan teams up with his former manager at Dunstable, Barry Fry, who is now in charge of Hillingdon. Borough have enjoyed a successful season to date and reached the second round of the F.A. Cup before going out 3-2 at home to Watford.
